ACM elections training for T&T journalists

ACM, February 23 - Trinidad and Tobago journalists will receive training in the coverage of elections on March 6, courtesy the Association of Caribbean MediaWorkers (ACM), in collaboration with the Trinidad and Tobago Publishers and Broadcasters Association (TTPBA) and with the participation of the Media Association of Trinidad and Tobago (MATT).

The one-day workshop will be led by ACM President, Wesley Gibbings, and veteran journalists Lennox Grant and Raoul Pantin. Gibbings and Grant are editors of the ACM Election Handbook for Caribbean Journalists published in 2009. The handbook will also be launched at the Port of Spain workshop.

Similar training efforts by the ACM have already been hosted in St Kitts and Nevis, Barbados and Guyana and the handbook has been launched in Jamaica. A workshop is also being scheduled for Suriname in March and work is underway for further training in St Vincent and the Grenadines.

The Trinidad and Tobago workshop will be hosted at the offices of the United Nations Information Centre for the Caribbean Area.
